

Mo Magic

www.momagic.co.za

Mo Magic is a dynamic talent - He is a magician who combines the principles of science, sleight of hand, showmanship, illusion, psychology and audience participation to create an extraordinary experience. His show is visual, interactive and highly entertaining.

Described as the James Bond of Magic, he performs internationally, features regularly on national TV, radio, and in newspapers & magazines. He is highly respected amongst fellow magicians and his performances have won him accolade in the magic community.

Mo says, "I believe that each person should experience a sense of astonishment and wonder. Entertaining with the art of magic is an avenue for me to share this with the people I meet. I LOVE IT!"

Additionally, Mo holds an honours degree in electronic engineering.

Shows

Close Up/Walk Around

Here Mo Magic strolls amongst your guests, at tables or walk around, showing each of them special pieces of magic. Whether he performs sleight of hand, takes their watches (and returns it naturally), bends the cutlery or reads their minds, your guests will remember THIS as part of YOUR event. The magic happens under their noses, and in some cases in their own hands. This is a personal experience and your guests will remember this memorable occasion for years.

Stand Up/Stage

Mo is available for an interactive stand up or stage show for larger audiences, where the audience watches attentively and some are invited on stage to participate. This is an enlightening, enchanting and entertaining experience for both the participants and audience. As a bonus, participants receive souvenirs for their assistance.

Combination of Close Up/Walk Around & Stand Up/Stage

In some cases, clients enjoy a combination of the above two shows. This is a unique and memorable treat for your guests.

Trade Shows & Exhibitions

Mo Magic has the ability to promote your brand, product or message by combining these into his show to attract potential clients and astonish them whilst educating them about your product. Once he concludes the show, he hands over the crowd to your sales team to provide more details. For corporates, trade shows and exhibitions, Mo offers a promotional giveaway option whereby each of your clients/potential clients receive a magic trick on DVD with a performance and instructions, personalised with YOUR brand name and your company contact details.

Reviews

International Scientific Conference - Professor Pat Berjak

"Mo Magic has scientists intrigued! ...Mo provided spice as the after-dinner featured guest at an international meeting of specialist biologists who had spent the previous week in serious scientific discussion. His being a major feature of this meeting, was at the invitation of the organisers, who included some of his most critical fans!"

At "The Nest" against the backdrop of the Drakensberg, Mo performed his magic for an audience whose everyday activities are focused on unraveling mysteries. The combined intellect and experience of the audience was of no help in detecting how this Master of Magic could do what he did, and Mo's presentation raised as much curiosity and enquiry, as did any of the latest scientific revelations that had been discussed."

Midlands Medical Centre - Kerry Freeman (Marketer/Public Relations Officer)

"...Mo was always professional and efficient when dealing with me prior to the function, with a busy schedule I did not get a chance to meet with him before the function and so we corresponded via email to plan the event. He always responded timeously, making it easier to co-ordinate everything.

On the day of the function, he was punctual, very presentable and also kindly accommodating as our schedule was running a bit late. His show was phenomenal! His performance was interactive; it also included audience participation, which seemed to work well as an icebreaker for our function at the same time. With an audience of doctors and specialists who spend their lives mastering the unknown, the magic show left them dumbfounded and totally in awe! The doctors were absolutely thrilled with Mo's performance and he absolutely excelled at more than pleasing a very difficult to please audience!"

Reckitt Benkiser - Anita de Kock (Event Organiser)

"...everybody loved the event and was truly amazed by your magic! And yes indeed: they did talk about it the week after. In fact they still do! ...Thanks again for a very entertaining and fun afternoon!"
